

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

I DESIRE to state at once what will be found and what will not be found in the present volume. It is not a catalogue of the entire Cathedral library. That will at once be understood when I mention that the library contains about 10,446 volumes of printed books,

10,730 separate pamphlets, making a gross total of about 21,176 volumes.

But it is a catalogue of certain sections of the library, as will be seen from the title-page, from the full table of contents, and from the following brief narrative :

On January 16, 1862, to my great pleasure, Dean Milman offered me the post of librarian of S. Paul's Cathedral. I had been librarian of my college at Cambridge, had always been a lover of books, and had taken interest in their arrangement and safe keeping. I had, of course, views of my own as to the method which should be adopted in dealing with such a collection of books as that which I found upon the shelves of the Cathedral. It was obviously useless to attempt to vie with any of the great libraries, or to struggle vainly to gather together miscellaneous works on general literature. I thought it better to make the collection of books illustrating the history of the cathedral my speciality. I arrived at this decision at a very early period in my tenure of office, for, on searching the catalogue, I found that, with the single exception of a copy of the second edition of Dugdale's History of S. Paul's Cathedral, there was hardly a book in the library which bore directly upon this subject.

Since October, 1872, the Dean and Chapter have been so good as to place in my hands a certain annual sum, to be used at my own discretion for the purposes of the Library. Binding and repairs form, in a City library, a serious item of regular outlay, and subscriptions to a few of the learned societies absorb another portion of the amount at my disposal, but the remaining portion has been available for my special object.

The result has been that I have been able to gather together what I venture to consider a valuable mass of material for the history of S. Paul's Cathedral. I point, with no little satisfaction, to the series of Paul's Cross Sermons which I have collected.¹ All who know the place which Paul's Cross occupied in the political and civil, no less than in the religious, history of the times, will appreciate the importance of the collection. For certainly in these vigorous discourses the men of the past age stand before us in their habit as they lived.

‘There is no Past, so long as Books shall live,
A disinterr'd Pompeii wakes again
For him who seeks you well.
Ye make the Past our heritage and home.’²

I am aware that the series is far from being complete; and, with a view to its enlargement, I have printed a list of Paul's Cross Sermons³ which are in the British Museum, but of which, at present, I have not been able to obtain copies. And I am hopeful that, in the course of years, many of these, by gift or by purchase, may find their way to the Cathedral.

Second in interest to the Paul's Cross Sermons, but still with a certain historical value, is the series of sermons preached not at the Cross, but within the walls of the Cathedral.⁴ These also throw considerable light upon the manners and customs of our forefathers in the great City. Attention may be specially directed to the annual services held in the Cathedral, at which the ‘Native Citizens of London,’⁵ or the ‘Natives of S. Martin-in-the-Fields,’⁶ or the ‘Gentlemen of Cheshire,’⁷ or the ‘Gentlemen of Wiltshire,’⁸ met together on the occasion of their annual feast. In like manner, the Gentlemen educated at S. Paul's School,⁹ or at Eton,¹⁰ were accustomed to keep an anniversary, and to mark it by a religious service. The numerous sermons preached on occasions of public thanksgiving reflect the temper of the times, and the changing political sentiment of the restless seventeenth century. A few examples will serve to illustrate my meaning.

In 1639 Dr. Valentine preaches on the ‘day of His Maiesties most happy Inauguration, and of His Northerne Expedition.' In 1645 Simeon Ash preaches at a 'Publike Thanksgiving for the taking in of the Towns and Castles of Caermarthen and Mounmouth in Wales.' In 1648 Jo. Geree anxiously endeavours to clear himself from 'Malignancy imputed to him by some left-eared Auditors,' and preaches about 'the Red Horse, or the Bloodines of War.' In 1651 Joseph Carryl commemorates the 'wonderfull Victorie to the Parliament Forces before Worcester, in the total defeat of the Enemie.' In 1660 Dr. Gauden rejoices over the restoring of 'the Secluded Members of Parliament to the House of Commons;' and the 'Door of Hope thereby opened to the fulness and freedom of future Parliaments, the most probable means under God for healing the hurts and recovering the health of these three Brittish Kingdomes.' In 1660 Richard Baxter discourses at the thanksgiving 'for God raising up and succeeding his Excellency, and other Instruments, in order to his Majesties Restoration and the settlement of these Nations.' In 1661 Henry Hibbert declares 'His Majesties most wonderful, glorious, peaceable, and joyful Restauration to the actual possession of his undoubted, hereditary, Sovereign, and actual authority;' the day being also his Majesty's 'most memorable Birth-Day.' The Lord Mayor attends the ministry of this master of adjectives. One more example only must be quoted, when, in the same year, Samuel Stone is the preacher, at 'the Initial of the Reverend Dr. John Barwick, Dean; at the first Celebrity of Divine Service with the Organ and Choristers, which the Lord Maior himself Solemniz'd with his Personal presence from the very beginning.'

Puritan ascendancy had passed away, and once more it was lawful to mention Saint Paul; whereas, of late, preachers had described themselves as Ministers of the Gospell at Magnus, Pastour of Christopher Le Stocks, minister of Mary Wolnoth, and the like.

Queen Anne was a frequent visitor to the Cathedral, coming to return thanks for the great victories achieved under Marlborough. A series of sermons, preached on occasion of these thanksgivings, will be found recorded here.

One notable and rare sermon, by Dean Feckenham, 'at the celebration of the exequies of the righte excellent and famous princesse, lady Jone, Quene of Spayne, Sicilie, & Nauarre,' in 1555, deserves especial notice. As does also 'the Sermō of doctor Colete, made to the Conuocation of Paules.' The copy is, alas, imperfect; the only perfect copy known forms one of the many gems of the Lambeth Library.

Specially interesting also is the little collection of plays acted by the Children of Paul's.¹ In my Gleanings in Old S. Paul's I have devoted a chapter to the subject of these plays, and have attempted to draw up a list, no doubt an imperfect one, of the various pieces enacted by the young players. I do not repeat the list in the present volume, but I will venture to express a hope that generous donors may be found who will enrich this curious collection.

In the more general class of books relating to the history of the Cathedral² I have been an insatiable collector; the largest folio or the thinnest pamphlet, the great work of some illustrious genius or the ephemeral production of some obscure pamphleteer, has been welcome. Nothing can be too large, nothing too small, to find a place in such a series. The almost worthless pamphlet of to-day may, a few years hence, supply a date or a fact worth recording, and would then probably be sought for in vain.

I have included in the Catalogue a few tracts relating to Sir Christopher Wren,³ even though they record, to the lasting disgrace of the perpetrators, the hard measure meted out to the illustrious architect by those who ought to have known better.

The Sacheverell controversy occupies a small place in my list, not from any great interest now attaching to the subject, but because the sermon from which it originated was preached within the walls of the Cathedral.

In the series of pamphlets, broadsides, and views which I have gathered together,⁴ the story of the funerals of Nelson and of Wellington is told in great detail.

From the history of S. Paul's to that of the great City which it adorns is an easy and natural transition. Sketches of the history of S. Paul's are found in every important History or Survey of London; and hence books of this kind soon came to be included in my search. Any experienced collector will readily observe that many valuable works are wanting; but this department of the Library will certainly grow. The City Fathers have been generous givers, and have placed upon our shelves the important works issued from time to time by the Guildhall Library Committee.

A fair number of scarce tracts will be found in this section of the Catalogue, together with many quaint and curious little books, not easily to be obtained, such as D. Lupton's London and the Countrey Carbonadoed, The Sermon and Prophecie of Mr. James Hunt of the Countie of Kent, or the Strange News from New-Gate, the latter illustrating the remarkable and most instructive outbreak of fanaticism in the middle of the seventeenth century; the tract Three Looks over London, with its interesting woodcut of Paul's Cross as it appeared in 1643; the pamphlet called News from the Dead, showing that the Barber-Surgeons' Company was still in possession of its dissecting-room in 1740 (illustrative details will be found in Mr. Sidney Young's admirable Annals of the Barber Surgeons. The entry on p. 419 :¹

'1740. Paid for mending the windows broke upon bringing the last Body from Tyburn - - - - o 6 o' refers to some popular tumult on this very occasion. The beadles of the company were apt to meet with rough usage when claiming and removing the bodies of executed malefactors); Mr. Herbert Croft's satirical tract, The Wreck of Westminster Abbey; and many another illustration of the history of the past.

It is much to be wished that some future Librarian may augment the sections relating to the City Parishes and to the Livery Companies.² Dr. Freshfield has greatly enriched the former section by presenting copies of his privately printed volumes, and several of the Livery Companies have generously sent us records of their history—a history of the highest interest to the student of municipal institutions. It is difficult to gather together the scattered notices of City parishes which have from time to time appeared—often privately printed—sometimes consisting only of a very few leaves, and liable, therefore, to perish in the using, though they frequently deserve a better fate; whilst the histories of the City companies are costly and often sumptuous volumes, severely taxing the resources of the Library.

Attention may be specially directed to the series of tracts relating to Mr. Henry Burton,³ the very notorious Rector of S. Matthew, Friday Street, who, in consequence of a sermon preached in this church, was condemned to stand in the pillory in the Palace Yard at Westminster, to lose his ears, to pay a fine of £5,000 to the king, and to be imprisoned for life. He suffered part of his sentence, but in 1640 was released by order of Parliament. Fuller says 'that he rather took a snap than any meat in any University.' He afterward turned Independent, and set up a separatist congregation of his own. The circumstance that I am Rector of the parish of S. Matthew, Friday Street,¹ has led me to pay special attention to this subject.

Not least in interest is the curious series of tracts² which tell the story of Cheapside Cross and those which supply accounts of the Plague and the Great Fire.³

I have also gathered together by the process of slow and laborious accumulation a large collection (amounting to about 951 plates) of Maps, Plans, and Views of London and of S. Paul's Cathedral. To these are added a few illustrations relating to Chertsey, Barking, Fulham, and other places whose story is interwoven with that of S. Paul's.⁴

These Plans and Views are for the most part mounted uniformly on 530 sheets,⁵ and are placed in a series of Solander cases, after a plan suggested to me by the late Mr. Fagan, whose efficient conduct of his department in the British Museum is well-known to all students. These cases are arranged as follows :

General Views. (Three cases.)

S. PAUL'S : The Old Cathedral.

The Present Building :

Exterior. (Two Cases.)

PAGEANTS : Including Public Thanksgivings, Ceremonials, Funerals, etc. (Two cases.)

MISCELLANEOUS.

I desire to acknowledge the great care and personal interest which Mr. Walter V. Daniell⁶ has taken in arranging and mounting this large mass of material, and also in compiling the catalogue of this portion of the collection, which is large and varied, the result of the labours of many years, comprising some very rare maps, plans, and views, together with a multitude of familiar engravings known to every collector. The general views of London have almost always been selected because they show some aspect of S. Paul's Cathedral. The magnificent church, dominating the City, as it does still, notwithstanding the lofty buildings which have grown up around it in recent times, has had a great fascination for me, and has caused me to add many a general view to the series.

⁴ This enumeration does not include :

120 Photographs of the Society for Photographing Relics of Old London.

Then follow detailed lists of two series of Plates, the first series taken from Mr. William Longman's History of the Three Cathedrals Dedicated to S. Paul in London; and the second series, being a complete set of the photographs issued by the Society for Photographing Relics of Old London, the latter the gift of Mrs. Church.

These are succeeded by a list (a somewhat scanty one) of Engraved Portraits of Bishops of London, Deans of S. Paul's, and Canons of the Cathedral. After this section comes a catalogue of casts of Seals of many of the Bishops of London, and of the Dean and Chapter; together with a list of Medals which in some way or other illustrate the history of S. Paul's, and a short notice of some miscellaneous objects of interest exhibited in glass cases in the Library.

An Appendix follows, which contains a list of DESIDERATA. This will tend to give more completeness to what was the leading idea with which I commenced the Catalogue; namely, to make it an attempt, however humble, at a Bibliography of S. Paul's.

This purpose, always present in my mind, will explain the inclusion in the Catalogue of many books which, at first sight, may seem to have no relation to the Cathedral. Thus *The Army's Martyr*¹ is included because it records the tragical story of the death of Robert Lockier, shot in S. Paul's Churchyard. Everyone will remember Carlyle's allusion to the incident: 'Trooper Lockyer is shot in Paul's Churchyard. A very brave young man, they say. Though but three and twenty, "he has served seven years in these Wars," ever since the Wars began. "Religious," too, of excellent parts, and much beloved.'² With more detail in his graphic manner. The *Brief Relation of the Persecutions and Cruelties that have been acted upon the people called Quakers*³ finds place because it relates a strange fanatical exhibition which took place within the church itself. Two Quaker women having entered S. Paul's during service time, the one of them 'vvith her face made black, and her hair down with blood poured in it, which ran down upon her sackcloth which she had on, and she poured also some blood down upon the Altar, and spoke some words.'¹ R. Keach's *War with the Devil*² occurs only because it has a view of London in Flames, in which the Cathedral is to be seen; whilst, even, certain *Select Fables of Æsop and other Fabulists*³ are included, only because one of the fables is entitled The Fly in S. Paul's Cupola; and Bishop Earle's quaint Microcosmography,⁴ because of its vivid account of Paul's Walk.

These examples will suffice to show that any allusion to S. Paul's Cathedral which can be regarded as of the very smallest historical value suffices, in my judgment, to entitle a book to a place in the collection.

The Catalogue concludes with three long Lists of Preachers at the anniversary meetings of three great religious societies, held for the most part in the Cathedral. These three societies, the outcome of a deep and widespread movement on the part of some of the most loyal sons of the English Church, year by year gathered their supporters within the sacred walls, and listened to the great masters of religious eloquence as they advocated the claims of these associations for the spread of vital religion. Many of their sermons are to be found on the shelves of the Library. The sermons on behalf of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge were usually preached on the occasions on which the children educated in what were called the Charity Schools of London were massed together under the vast dome of S. Paul's. Many readers will remember the picturesque scene—the quaint dresses of the children, with the occasional brilliant patches of colour where the girls were dressed in scarlet, the glowing colour relieved by the snow-white caps and aprons, and, above all, the almost overpowering effect when the combined voices of the great multitude of children burst forth in singing 'All people that on earth do dwell,' or united in the grand choruses of the Coronation anthem.

I had intended to have limited the present volume to a Catalogue of the Books, Maps, Plans, and Views already enumerated. But the Dean of S. Paul's suggested to me that it would be well to add a list of the Bibles and other rare books in Archivis; and this has accordingly been done. The Bibles and New Testaments⁵ formed a special subject, requiring much bibliographical knowledge, and in this portion of the work I have called in the skilled help of Mr. Henry Guppy, one of the assistant librarians at Sion College, who threw himself very heartily into the work, and who is mainly responsible for pp. 3 to 55.

I need hardly draw the attention of the student of Bibles to our great treasures, the Tyndale New Testament, the Tyndale Pentateuch, and the Large Paper Walton's Polyglot; books which are in themselves sufficient to give a character to any library.

Amongst the Office Books and Liturgies,¹ which follow the Bibles, special mention may be made of the books Secundum usum Sarum; the Ordinal and Order of Communion of 1548; the copy of the Sealed Book; and Bishop Compton's own beautiful copy of the same edition of the Prayer-Book, once clothed in a sumptuous silver binding.²

I have thought it well to add an extended list of Rituals, especially of a series of service-books of the Greek Church, and a brief enumeration of a few liturgical reprints, which, though not to be classed amongst rare books, may yet add a little more completeness to this interesting section of the Catalogue.

Under each section the books enumerated will be found arranged, as far as possible, in chronological order; the early books are fully entered, but the later and less important works appear under condensed and shortened titles.

It must be remembered that the primary intention of this volume is to supply the members of the Cathedral body with a guide to the treasures which might otherwise be unknown upon the shelves.

If there is one thing more than another to be desired in such a work as this it is minute, literal accuracy. It is easier to aim at accuracy than to attain to it. I have heard it said that the librarian who prints a catalogue must from that moment bid farewell to happiness, as it will be the special occupation of the great mass of his acquaintance to point out errors in his work.

Well, I have run the risk.

Errors, no doubt, will be found. It is almost impossible to avoid them. Each librarian would certainly adopt his own system of classification, and I can well understand that his system might not be my own. But I have tried to make my system clear by a full table of contents and by a large and ample index (containing about

2,694 entries), by means of which I hope that any book included in the list may readily be found.

But every year that I live convinces me more fully that one's own methods are not necessarily the most perfect ; and I am sure that I cannot do better than adopt the words lately used by the learned Dean of Winchester :

‘ In a work so full of details there must be many errors and shortcomings. There are many traps for the unwary ; wherein when I have been caught, I would pray the wiser critics, who stand safe, to be not scornful, but pitiful.’

I beg to acknowledge the courtesy of Mr. Bedford Lemeré in granting me permission to use the very interesting photograph which forms the frontispiece to this volume.

One welcome duty alone remains, and that is to record my thanks to my loving and patient wife, who has saved my weary eyes many a strain by her help in the tedious labour of correcting the proofs.

NOTE ON S. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL LIBRARY.

IN Dugdale's History of S. Paul's Cathedral that laborious antiquary gives a catalogue of the contents of the Library in the year 1458. Walter Shirleyngton, clerk, had founded the Library, and his executors had carried out his pious intentions by erecting a suitable building over the cloister which surrounded Pardon-chirche-hawe on the north side of the grand Church. The catalogue fills eight folio pages in the first edition of Dugdale. Of all these manuscripts only three are known to exist : one is still at S. Paul's, the second is at Aberdeen, the third is at Lambeth. As for the rest, it seems probable that the fire of 1561 may have destroyed very many, and that if any survived they fell victims to the zeal of civil or ecclesiastical iconoclasts, receiving a final coup de grâce in the terrible conflagration of 1666.

The Records of the Cathedral happily escaped. No doubt a great number of deeds and documents have been purloined and destroyed; but a very large mass still remains, as may be seen in Mr. Maxwell Lyte's excellent Calendar in the Historical Manuscripts Commission Reports.

The Library itself is a noble room, lined with oak presses, and surrounded by a gallery supported by exceedingly fine brackets carved by Grinling Gibbons. Lord Lytton's words may well be taken to describe it :

'Sit here and muse! —It is an antique Room ;
High-roof'd, with casement, through whose purple panes
Unwilling Daylight steals amidst the gloom
Shy as a fearful Stranger.
Hark ! while we muse, without the walls is heard
The various murmur of the labouring crowd.
How still, within those archive cells interr'd,
The Calm Ones reign.'

Henry Compton, Bishop of London during the rebuilding of the Cathedral, was the founder of the present Library. He bequeathed no less than 1,892 volumes to form the nucleus of a collection.

Partly by gift and partly by purchase, the books of Dr. Thomas Mangey, Prebendary of Durham, and of his son, the Rev. John Mangey, Prebendary of S. Paul's, were acquired in 1783.

I have given some account of the growth of the collection in my Gleanings from Old S. Paul's, and it is unnecessary to repeat in this place what has there been said.

There is a manuscript catalogue of the printed books, which form the staple of the collection, and I have compiled a catalogue, also in manuscript, of the 10,000 pamphlets which I have purchased for the Cathedral during my tenure of office. These pamphlets include 6,348 separate tracts, gathered together by Bishop Sumner, who presided over the Diocese of Winchester from 1827 to 1869; and the 1,405 tracts of Archdeacon Hale, Archdeacon of London from 1842 to 1870; together with the smaller, but yet important collection, made by Dr. Irons, late Prebendary, and presented to the Cathedral by his widow.

The Cathedral Clergy responded with great liberality to an appeal which I ventured to address to them some years ago, and have added to our stores, at my especial request, copies of works of which they have themselves been the authors. Amongst the more generous donations, I may mention that the families of Dean Milman, Dean Mansel, and Dean Church have greatly enriched the Library; Dean Church during his lifetime having been also a great benefactor. Dr. Wace, amongst other important gifts, has contributed a copy of his Dictionary of Christian Biography; Dr. Freshfield, a series of his interesting volumes on parochial history; and the Rev. W. H. Milman, a set of the Quarterly Review from its commencement. The latest accession has been a bequest by Archdeacon Hessey of his complete set of the Bampton Lectures.

The Library is, as might be expected, rich in councils, patristic literature, and theology. The publications of the Surtees Society, the Camden Society, the Palæographical Society, the youthful but vigorous Henry Bradshaw Society, the Ecclesiastical History Society, the London and Middlesex Archaeological Society, the S. Paul's Ecclesiological Society (which has already done some excellent work), the large series of Chronicles issued by the Master of the Rolls, the Calendars of the State Papers, and if last, certainly not least, the Acta Sanctorum of the Bollandists, find place upon the shelves.

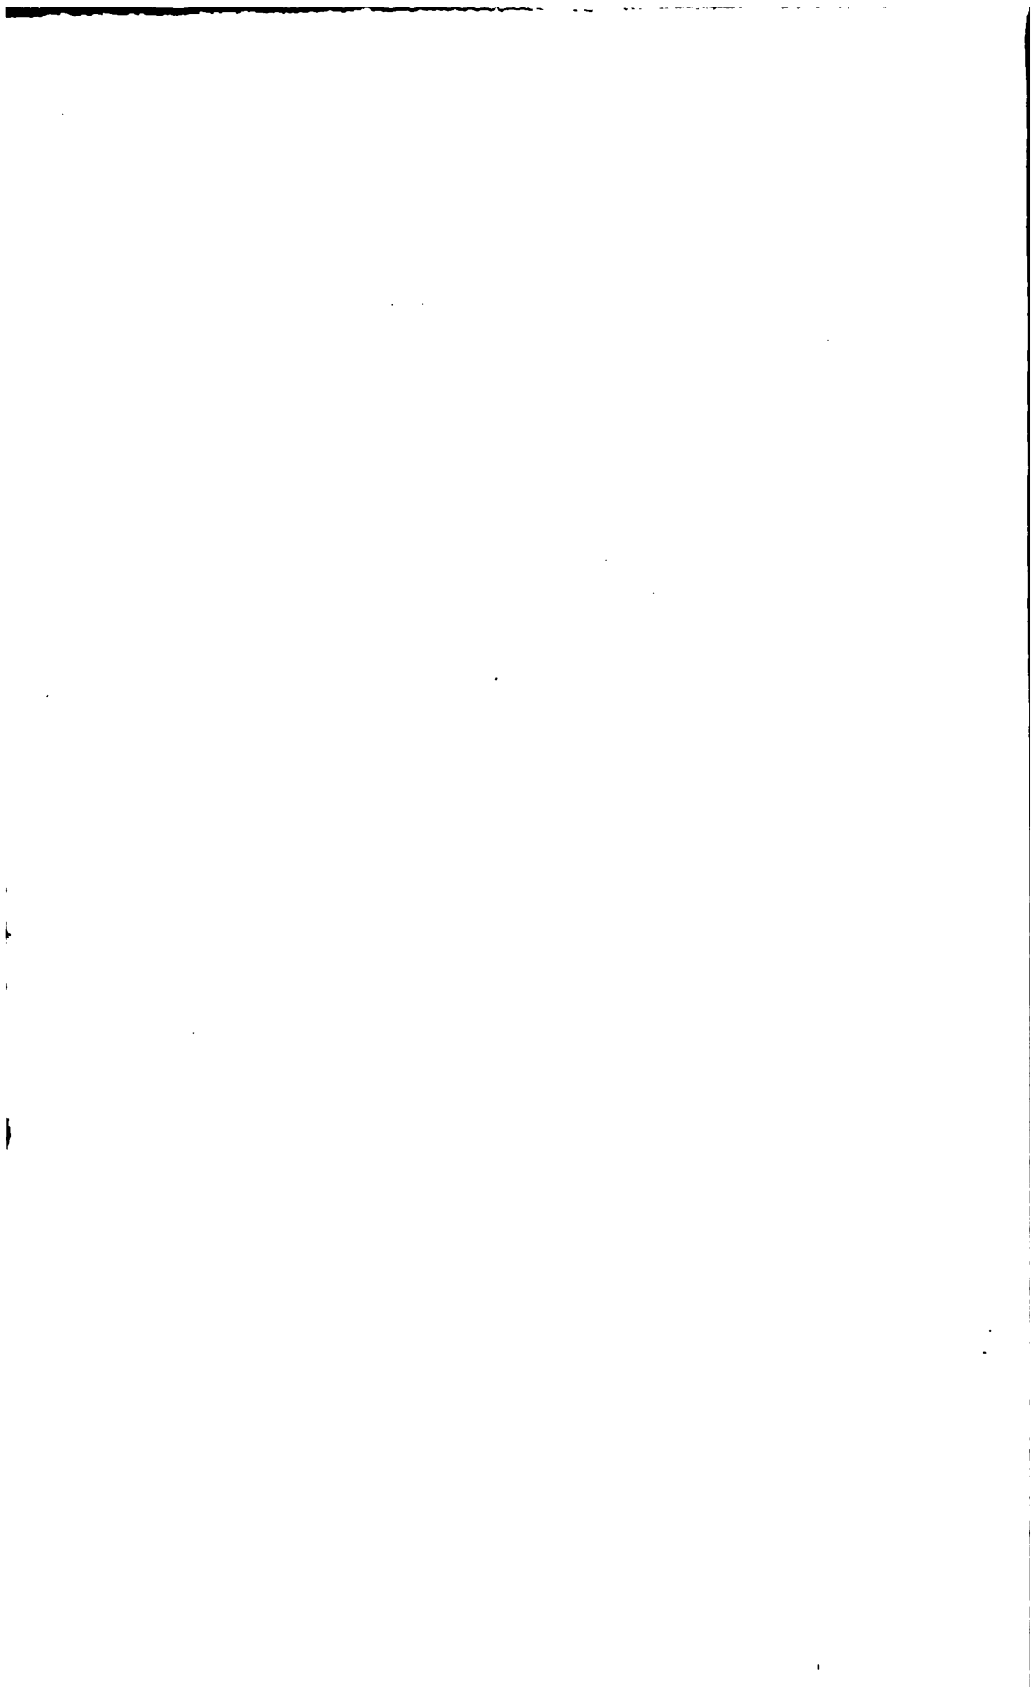

I have lately enriched the Library by the purchase of a valuable series of original manuscripts, once the property of the learned Bishop Gibson, many of them in his own handwriting. Amongst the manuscripts is a Vow made by Charles I., and signed with his own hand; and the draft of a Letter from the King to Queen Henrietta Maria, which is entirely in his own handwriting. A facsimile of the Vow and a copy of the Letter will be found in the Archæologia, vol. liii., pp. 155-160.

Amongst those who have laboured lovingly in the Cathedral Library should be especially commemorated the brilliant author of the Ingoldsby Legends, Richard Harris Barham, of most facetious memory. He found the Library in a sadly neglected condition, and 'it pitied him to see it in the dust.' His carefully-written reports, which are still extant, led to the repair of many volumes which might else have perished. He was much more than a mere wit. He was an ardent bibliographer, as some notes in his fine, clear hand in many of the rarer books still testify.

May there never be wanting loving hands and hearts to deal with the treasures stored within these walls : and to transmit to others

POLYGLOTS.

- 1569-73. Biblia Sacra. Hebraice, Chaldaice, Græce et Latine. Edited by Arias MONTANUS. Antverpiæ, Chris. Plantinus. 8 vols. Folio (varying in size from 15-10½ to 15½-10½ inches). 1569-1573.

[2 B 2-9.]

* * Volumes 1 to 5, containing the text, are uniform in size, (15-10½ inches), but vols. 6 to 8, comprising the appendices, are somewhat taller.

This Bible was produced under the auspices and at the expense of Philip II. of Spain.

1599. Sacra Biblia, Hebraice, Græce, et Latine. Cum annotationibus Francisci Vatabli Hebraicæ linguæ quondam Professoris Regii Lutetiæ. Latina interpretatio duplex est, altera vetus, altera nova. Omnia cum editione Complutensi diligenter collata, additis in margine, quos Vatablus in suis annotationibus nonnunquam omiserat, idiotismis, verborumque difficiliorum radicibus.

Editio postrema, multo quàm antehac emendatior : cui etiam nunc accessit, ne quid in ea desiderari posset.

Novum Testamentum Græcolatinum Ben. Ariæ Montani Hispalensis. Ex officina Commeliniana. 1599. 2 vols. Folio (15½-10½ inches).

[27 B 11-12.]

- 1629-45. Biblia. 1, Hebraica ; 2, Samaritana ; 3, Chaldaica ; 4, Græca ; 5, Syriaca ; 6, Latina ; 7, Arabica. Quibus textus originales totius Scripturæ Sacræ, quorum pars in editione Complutensi, deinde in Antverpiensi regiis sumptibus extat, nunc integri, ex manuscriptis toto ferè orbe quæsitas exemplaribus, exhibentur. Lutetiæ Parisiorum, Antonius Vitre. 9 vols. in 10 (vol. 5 in 2 parts). Folio (19½-13½ inches). 1629-1645.

[19 A 1-10.]

* * A very fine copy, on large paper, in the original binding.

- 1657-69. Biblia Sacra Polyglotta complectentia textus originales, Hebraicum, cum Pentateucho Samaritano, Chaldaicum, Græcum, versionumque antiquarum, Samaritanæ, Græcæ LXXII. Interp., Chaldaicæ, Syriacæ, Arabicæ, Æthiopicæ, Persicæ, Vulg. Lat., etc. Edited by Brian WALTON. 6 vols. bound in 12. With the Lexicon Heptaglotton Edmundi CASTELLI, in 2 vols. Londini, Thomas Roycroft. 8 vols. in 14. Folio (measuring: Bible, $19\frac{1}{4}$ - $13\frac{1}{2}$, and Lexicon, $19\frac{5}{8}$ -14 inches). 1657-1669.

[Case B.]

* * Upon large paper, this work is of great rarity. This copy is exceptionally fine and tall and in a perfect state, except that the engraved title and portrait of Walton have been slightly cut down in the process of remounting. On the sides, JACOBVS. DVX. EBOR. This copy has the royal dedication. In the second volume of the Lexicon the first 32 pages have been very neatly inlaid.

1657. Biblia Sacra Polyglotta. . . . Edited by Brian WALTON. Two small-paper copies of the preceding, but without the Lexicon. 6 vols. Folio ($17\frac{1}{2}$ -11 inches). 1657.
[3 A 3-8 and 47 A 7-12.]

HEBREW TEXTS.

1566. Biblia Hebraica, cum punctis. Antverpiæ ex officina Christ. Plantini, 1566. Quarto ($8\frac{7}{8}$ - $5\frac{3}{8}$ inches).

[9 E 19.]

* * Printed with great care, by command of Bomberg, the great publisher of Hebrew books.

- 1571-72. Hebraicorum Bibliorum. Veteris Testamenti Latina interpretatio, opera olim Xantis Pagnini Lucensis: nunc verò Ben. Ariæ Montani Hispalensis; Francisci Raphelengii Alnetani, Guidonis et Nicolai Fabriciorum Boderianorum fratrum collato studio ad Hebraicam dictionem diligentissimè expensa—Novum Testamentum Græce cum Vulgata interpretatione Latina Græci contextus lineis inserta, atque alia Ben Ariæ Montani Hispalensis operâ. Antverpiæ, Chris. Plantinus. 2 vols. in 1. Folio ($15\frac{1}{2}$ - $14\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1571-1572.

[2 B 8.]

1573. Biblia Hebraica cum notis criticis et versione Latina ad notas criticas facta, accedunt Libri Græci, qui Deuterocanonici vocantur in tres classes distributi. Autore Carolo-Francisco HOUBIGANT, O.J.S. Lutetiæ Parisiorum, A. C. Briasson et L. Durand. 4 vols. Folio ($15\frac{1}{2}$ -10 inches). 1753.
[2 B 10-13.]

* * A very fine and clean copy.

GREEK VERSIONS.

1545. Biblia Græca. Divinae Scripturae, Veteris ac Novi Testamenti, omnia, innumeris locis nunc demum, & optimorum librorum collatione, & doctorum uirorum operâ, multo quàm unquam antea emendatiora in lucem edita. Cum Cæs. Maiest. gratia et privilegio ad quinquennium. Basilæ per Joan. Hervagium 1545. Folio (18-7 $\frac{1}{8}$ inches).

[43 B. 25.]

* * The preface of this edition, which is said to surpass in correctness both the Strasburg and Venetian editions, is by Melancthon. The edition is very little known and is rare.

1628. Vetus Testamentum [Græcum]. Secundum LXX et ex auctoritate Sixti. V. Pont. Max. Editum nunc primum e regione textus Græci apposita est Latina translatio. Versuum quoque numeri qui antea nulli erant, ad collationem Latinæ vulgatæ, in margine, quoad fieri potuit, inscripti sunt. Lutetiæ Parisiorum, apud Claudium Sonnum. 2 vols. Folio (14 $\frac{1}{2}$ -9 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1628.

[19 C 16-17.]

- 1707-9. Vetus Testamentum Septuaginta Interpretum. Ex antiquissimo MS. Codice Alexandrino accuratè descriptum. Edidit Joannes Ernestus GRABE, S.T.P. Oxonii, Theatro Sheldoniano, Rich. Smith. Vols. 1 and 4 only. Folio (17 $\frac{1}{2}$ -11 inches). 1707-1709.

[3 A 9-10.]

* * Tomus 1, continens Octateuchum. Tomus [4] Ultimus, continens Psalmorum, Jobi, ac tres Salomonis libros, cum Apocrypha ejusdem, nec non Siracidæ Sapientia.

LATIN VERSIONS.

1495. [Biblia Integra : summata : distincta : accuratius re-emendata : utriusque testamenti concordantiis illustrata.] Basileæ, Johannem Froben de Hamelburgk. 8vo. (6 $\frac{7}{8}$ -4 inches). 1495.

Imperfect, wanting four leaves, title and three following leaves (a1 to a4).

[38 B 18.]

1497. Biblia cum summariis concordantiis : divisionibus : quattuor repertoriis ppositis : numerique foliorum distinctione : terse et fidelit̃ imp̃ssa. [Parisiis], Franciscus Fradin et Johānes Piuard. Folio (10 $\frac{1}{8}$ -6 $\frac{7}{8}$ inches). 1497.

[38 B 15.]

* * The Acts of the Apostles in this version follows the Epistle to the Hebrews. This copy is quite perfect and in excellent condition, but for a small hole piercing ten leaves in the Acts.

1526. Sacra Biblia ad LXX Interpretum fidem diligentissime trālata. Basileæ, per Andream Cratandrum. Quarto ($8\frac{1}{4}$ - $5\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1526.

[38 B 17.]

* * The title and first leaf are soiled, and the volume is slightly wormed in parts; otherwise a clean copy.

1597. Biblia Sacra, sive, Libri Canonici Priscæ Judæorum Ecclesiæ à Deo traditi, Latini recens ex Hebræo facti, brevibusque Scholiis illustrati ab Immanuele Tremellio & Francisco Junio. Accesserunt Libri qui vulgo dicuntur Apocryphi, Latinè redditi, & notis quibusdam aucti à Francisco Junio. Multo omnes quàm antè emendatius editi & aucti locis innumeris: quibus etiam adjunximus Novi Testamenti libros ex sermone Syro ab eodem Tremellio & ex Græco à Theodoro Beza in Latinum versos, notisque itidem illustratos.

Tertia et omnium quæ hodiè extant novissima cura Francisci Junii cujus æmula ad verbum nuper Hanovix impressa, sed longè inferior.

Londini, Excudebat G. B., R. N., and R. B., Anno Dom.

1597. Folio ($11\frac{3}{4}$ -8 inches).

[28 D 7.]

1618. Biblia Sacra Vulgatæ Editionis. Sixti. V. Pont. Max. jussu recognita atque edita. Antverpiæ, Ex Officina Plantiniana apud Balthasarem et Joannem Moretos fratres. 3 vols. Quarto ($9\frac{1}{2}$ -7 inches). 1618.

[3 E 4-6.]

1618. Biblia Latina Vulgata. To which is appended 'Romanæ correctionis in Latinis Bibliis editionis Vulgatæ jussu Sixti. V. Pont. Max. recognitis loca insigniora observata à Francisco Luca. Lutetiæ Parisiorum, R. Fouët, N. Buon, S. Cramoisy. Folio ($15\frac{1}{2}$ - $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1618.

Imperfect, wanting two leaves: title and ðz.

[3 B 3.]

GERMAN VERSION.

1586. Biblia, Das ist: Die gantze heilige Schrift Deudsch. D. Mart. Luth. Begnadet mit Churfürstlicher zu Sachssen Freyheit. Wittemberg Gedruckt durch Zacharias Lehman 1586. Quarto ($7\frac{1}{2}$ - $4\frac{1}{8}$ inches).

[36 B 31.]

DUTCH VERSION.

1616. Biblia Dat is de Gantsche Heijlighe Schriftuere voortijts bij Jacob van Liesvelt ootgegaen na de alderoudtste ende corectste copijen die gedrukt zijn. Arnhem, Jan Janssen. Folio ($11\frac{1}{8}$ - $7\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1616.

[38 B 14.]

SPANISH VERSION.

1569. La Biblia que es, los sacros libros del viejo y nuevo Testamento. Trasladata en Español [por CASIODORO DE

REYNA]. Without place or name of printer. Folio (9 $\frac{1}{8}$ -7 $\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1569.

[38 B 16.]

* * This Bible is popularly known as the 'Bear Bible,' on account of the cut upon the title-page, which represents a bear sucking honey from a tree. The title is the genuine original, with the 1569 imprint, and not the reprinted title of 1622.

ENGLISH VERSIONS.

Arranged chronologically.

1535. Reprint of the Coverdale Bible. 'The Holy Scriptures, Faithfully and truly translated, By Myles COVERDALE, Bishop of Exeter 1535.' Reprinted from the copy in the library of his Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex for Samuel Bagster, 15, Paternoster Row, London. Folio (12 $\frac{1}{2}$ -10 inches). 1838.

[38 B 19.]

* * A reprint of the first edition of the entire Bible in English, which is now generally believed to have been printed at Antwerp by Jacob van Meteren. The seven preliminary leaves, which are in a different type, are supposed to have been printed by James Nicholson, of Southwark, who was probably the publisher of the volume.

1537. The Bible. MATTHEW'S (partly Tyndale's and partly Coverdale's Versions). [Probably printed at Antwerp by Jacob van Meteren] at the expense of Richard Grafton and Edward Whitchurch, in the year 1537. Folio (12 $\frac{1}{2}$ -9 inches).

Imperfect, wanting twenty-one leaves: title, first leaf of Kalendar, To the Chrysten Readers and A Table (thirteen leaves), Names of Books, etc. (one leaf), and Gg1 of part 1, title of New Testament (which is in facsimile), N8, O6, O8.

[38 A 1.]

* * This Bible, which is popularly known as 'Matthew's,' or 'the Bugge Bible,' was published by John Rogers, the first martyr under Queen Mary, under the assumed name of Thomas Matthew. The Old Testament to the end of the Book of Chronicles is Tyndale's translation, thence to the end of the Apocrypha Coverdale's, and the whole of the New Testament Tyndale's. The rendering of Psalm xci. 5, 'so that thou shalt not nede to be a frayd for eny bugges by nyght,' is common to Coverdale's, Matthew's, and Taverner's versions.

1539. The Bible. Published under the auspices of Thomas Lord Cromwell. Printed [partly in Paris, finished in London] by Rychard Grafton and Edward Whitchurch; fynished in Apryll, 1539. Folio (14 $\frac{7}{8}$ -9 $\frac{1}{8}$ inches).

Imperfect, wanting three leaves: title of part 3 (AA1) and the two last leaves of the volume (NN7, NN8). The first title, which is imperfect, has been made up in facsimile; many other leaves are mutilated and partly missing.

[38 A 2.]

* * Although this edition was commonly called the first edition of Cranmer's Great Bible, Ames says that the Archbishop had no hand whatever in it. It was put forth by Lord Cromwell, who employed Coverdale to revise the then existing translation. The woodcut titles and illustrations are attributed to Hans Holbein.

1540. The Bible. 'CRANMER'S, or the GREAT BIBLE,' with CRANMER'S Prologue. Printed at London by Edward Whitchurch, April and July, 1540. Folio ($14\frac{3}{8}$ - $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches).

Imperfect, wanting eight leaves: first title and five following leaves and the two last leaves of the volume (NN7 and NN8). A few other leaves are slightly damaged. A facsimile title, supplied by Mr. George Offor, has been appended to this copy.

[38 A 3.]

* * The prologue of this copy begins with a large flourished initial letter of twelve lines deep, and has the Latin quotations in italic type, which features are peculiar to the July impression, whilst the rendering of the first verse of Job xli. shows the text to be of the April impression (or first edition of Cranmer's Bible). This copy is probably made up of the two editions.

1540. The Bible. The GREAT BIBLE. Printed at London by Thomas Petyt and Robert Redman for Thomas Berthelet. Finisshed in Apryll, Anno 1540. Folio ($12\frac{3}{16}$ - $8\frac{3}{8}$ inches).

Imperfect, wanting two leaves: first title and second leaf of calendar.

[38 A 4.]

* * This is a reprint, or second edition, of the Bible printed in 1539, and popularly, but erroneously, called the first edition of Cranmer. One peculiarity of this edition is in Psalm xiv., of which seven lines commencing 'Their throte,' etc., is printed in Roman type, and not in black letter, as the body of the text.

1541. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Printed at London by Edward Whitchurche and Fynyshed in November, 1541. Folio ($15\frac{1}{4}$ -10 inches).

[38 A 6.]

* * An exceedingly fine and quite perfect copy, having the rare leaf (CC8) at the end of the Book of Psalms, which is seldom to be met with in a perfect state.

This is the first edition of the Bible that was ordered to be chained in the churches.

1541. The Bible. CRANMER'S. An imperfect copy of the preceding. Fynyshed in November, 1541. Folio ($15\frac{1}{4}$ -10 inches).

Wanting six leaves: the five leaves immediately following title and CC8 (the rare leaf of the Psalms). Several other leaves are repaired.

[38 A 5.]

1541. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Another imperfect copy of the preceding. Fynysshed in November, 1541. Folio ($15\frac{3}{16}$ - $10\frac{1}{2}$ inches).

Wanting seventeen leaves: all before b1, b8, c1, and the last leaf of table (Mm6).

[38 A 7.]

1547. The Bible. MATTHEW'S Version, revised by Edmund BECKE. Printed at London by John Daye and W. Seres, 1547. Folio ($11\frac{7}{16}$ -7 inches).

Imperfect, wanting title and all before BB1, F5, G1 (of part 1), and all after T6, except U4 (of New Testament).

[38 B 1.]

* * The title prefixed to this copy does not belong to it, but to Barker's Version of 1589, popularly known as 'the Breeches Bible.'

1547. The Bible. MATTHEW'S Version, revised by Edmund BECKE. Another copy of the preceding. 1547. ($11\frac{7}{16}$ -7 inches).

Imperfect, wanting title and all before E1, F2 to F5 (of part 1); A1 to A8, B1 and all after R6 (of the New Testament).

[38 B 2.]

1549. The Bible. MATTHEW'S. [A faulty reprint of the 1537 edition.] Printed at London by Wylliam Hyll and Thomas Raynaldes. 1549. Folio ($12\frac{7}{8}$ - $7\frac{1}{2}$ inches).

Imperfect, wanting only the first title.

[38 B 3.]

* * So erratic is the numbering of the leaves, that it is useless as a guide to the sequence of the pages.

1550. The Bible. COVERDALE'S. [Probably printed at Zurich by Christopher Froschover] for Andrew Hester, of London, 1550. Quarto ($8\frac{3}{4}$ -7 inches).

Imperfect, wanting three leaves at end, comprising table of the Gospels and Epistles, concluding with the colophon.

[38 A 15.]

* * This second foreign edition of the Coverdale Bible is printed in an angular German type, similar to the 1535 edition, but smaller, and is now believed to have come from the press of Chris. Froschover, at Zurich. The preliminary leaves, which are in a small black-letter type, were evidently printed in England.

The original title is imperfect; the missing parts have been supplied in facsimile.

The volume has been judiciously rebound, the original sides with a beautifully-tooled lace edging carefully preserved.

1550. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Printed at London by Edward Whytchurche. Quarto ($8\frac{7}{8}$ - $5\frac{7}{8}$ inches), 1550.

Very imperfect, wanting the whole Book of Psalms, Ruth, part of Joshua, and the New Testament after the First Epistle to the Corinthians, as well as many other isolated sheets.

[38 A 10.]

1550. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Another copy of the preceding. Quarto ($8\frac{5}{8}-5\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1550.
Imperfect, wanting A1, D6, and all after Nn7, which ends the First Epistle of S. John.
[38 A 9.]
1551. The Bible. MATTHEW'S Version, revised by Edmund BECKE. Printed at London by John Daye. Folio ($10\frac{1}{8}-7\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1551.
Imperfect, wanting title, AA1, and the six last leaves (Uuuu3 to Uuuu8).
[38 B 4.]
* * This Bible contains the Third Book of Machabees.
1551. The Bible. MATTHEW'S. Printed at London by Nicolas Hyll for Thomas Petyt. Folio ($11\frac{1}{8}-7\frac{6}{8}$ inches). 1551.
Imperfect, wanting only the last leaf, which has been supplied in facsimile; certain other leaves have been repaired.
[38 B 5.]
* * This edition is very badly printed; the broken and imperfect letters, which are almost innumerable, have in this copy been filled in with pen and ink.
1551. The Bible. MATTHEW'S. Another copy of the preceding. Folio ($11\frac{1}{8}-7\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1551.
Imperfect, wanting all before aiiii, a1, Aa1, Hh4, Qq8, AA1, AAa1, TTt2-TTt6.
[38 B 6.]
* * Although in all other respects this copy is identical with the preceding, there are certain variations in the signatures, which prove it to be of another impression. N5 is here mis-signed M5; MMiii, and PPPii are likewise missigned; but in the preceding copy these faults do not occur. The present copy is probably an earlier impression than the former.
1553. The Bible. COVERDALE'S. Printed [at Zurich by Ch. Froschover for] Richard Jugge. Quarto ($9\frac{1}{8}-7$ inches). 1553.
Imperfect, wanting mm8, nn1, pp8, qq1-qq4. and the three leaves (table and colophon) at the end of New Testament.
[38 A 16.]
* * Although this edition bears the name of Jugge as printer, he is only responsible for the preliminary leaves; the text is identical with that of 1550, which was printed for Hester by Froschover. Jugge, who was less scrupulous than Hester, states that this edition was printed by him; Hester states for him. That the editions are identical is proved by the fault in the headline of folio 26, which in both copies reads 'Genesis,' instead of 'Exodus.'
1553. The Bible. COVERDALE'S. Another copy of the preceding. Very imperfect, wanting the first eight leaves of Prolegomena, including title, A1 to Cii, and all after OO7 (Heb. xiii.).
[38 A 17.]

 Sheets of Barker and Bill's Bible of 1630 have been bound up at the commencement, in order to complete the text of Genesis.

1553. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Printed at London by Edwarde Whytchurche. Folio ($12\frac{5}{8}$ - $8\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1553.

[38 A 11.]

 According to the MS. note in the British Museum copy, 'It has been said that Queen Mary destroyed the greater part of this impression.'

1553. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Printed at London by Richard Grafton. Quarto ($7\frac{1}{8}$ - $5\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1553.

Imperfect, wanting two leaves: title, and following leaf.

Appended to this volume are eleven leaves, comprising Calendar, the title to the Psalter, the order how the Psalter is appointed to be read, and the Table of Proper Lessons. Printed by W. Seres. 1567.

[38 A 12.]

1553. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Another copy of the preceding, but less perfect. Quarto ($6\frac{1}{2}$ -5 inches). 1553.

Wanting seven leaves: title and following leaf (A1, A2), and three leaves at the end (M6 to M8).

[38 A 13.]

1562. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Printed at London by Richard Harrison. Folio ($12\frac{1}{4}$ - $8\frac{1}{4}$ inches). 1562.

Imperfect, wanting all after P8 (Rev. xx.), portions of LL8, of Part 2, and the first two leaves (A1-2) of the New Testament have been torn away.

[38 A 18.]

 The title, which has been remounted, is the same beautiful woodcut as that used in the 1537 Matthew Bible; the central shield bearing the title has been cut away, and is now replaced by a manuscript facsimile.

1562. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Another copy of the preceding. Folio ($12\frac{1}{4}$ -8 inches). 1562.

Imperfect, wanting all before A1 (part of which is torn away), DD7, the title of New Testament, M3, P1, and all after P2; several other leaves are mutilated.

[38 A 19.]

1562. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Another copy of the preceding. Folio ($12\frac{5}{16}$ - $8\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1562.

Imperfect, wanting many leaves; a poor and mutilated copy.

[38 A 20.]

1566. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Printed at Rouen by C. Hamilton, at the cost and charges of Richard Carmarden. Folio ($14\frac{5}{8}$ - $9\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1566.

Imperfect, wanting four leaves: title, Aa2, Aa3, and the last leaf (table).

[38 A 8.]

* * This volume, which is beautifully printed in a large and clean type on fine thick paper, is in excellent state.

1568. The Bible. PARKER'S, or the BISHOPS' BIBLE. Printed at London by Richard Jugge. Folio (15-10 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches). 1568.

Very imperfect, wanting: title, prolegomena, all before G7; A2, F7 and F8 of Part 3; P3 to P7 of the Apocrypha; and A1 and all after N8 of the New Testament. Many other leaves are mutilated.

[38 B 7.]

* * This is the first edition of the Bishops' Version, copies of which are rarely found in a perfect state.

1569. The Bible. CRANMER'S. Printed at London by Jhon Cawood. Quarto (7 $\frac{5}{8}$ -5 $\frac{5}{8}$ inches). [1569.]

Imperfect, wanting: title and prolegomena, SS7, SS8, TT8, Ddd7, R4 (Rev. xxii.), and the following two leaves, which are unsigned, being the Table to the Epistles and Gospels.

[38 A 14.]

* * This edition is sometimes confused with that of 1561; it may, however, be identified by the numbering of the folios, which is in ordinary figures; in the 1561 edition it is in Roman figures.

1573. The Bible. PARKER'S or the BISHOPS' BIBLE. Printed at London by Richard Jugge. Quarto (8 $\frac{1}{4}$ -6 $\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1573.

Imperfect, wanting: title and first eleven leaves of prolegomena, A1, F1, L4, N8, P1, Y3, Y4; I3, V8; A2, A4, K5, K6, and all after O7 (of the New Testament); portions of a number of other leaves are missing.

[38 B 8.]

1577. The Bible. PARKER'S or the BISHOPS' BIBLE. [Probably printed by Richard Jugge.] Quarto (7-5 inches). 1577.

Imperfect, wanting only title and last leaf with colophon, otherwise complete.

Appended to this volume and preceding the Bible is 'Proper Lessons and Calendar,' forming eight leaves, and the Book of Common Prayer in the same type as the Bible. Following the Bible is the Psalter, by Sternhold, Hopkins, etc. Printed by John Daye, London. 1579.

Imperfect, wanting all after H4.

[38 B 10.]

1583. The Bible. GENEVAN VERSION. 'The Third Part of the Bible (after some Division), conteining five excellent bookes, most commodious for all Christians. . . .' Printed at London by Christopher Barker. In 8vo. (4 $\frac{7}{8}$ -2 $\frac{7}{8}$ inches). 1583.

Imperfect; the title is mutilated and the preface to the reader wanting.

The volume also contains TOMSON'S New Testament of 1583, which is described under New Testaments.

[38 C 18.]

 This is a portion of one of the Bibles popularly known as the Breeches Bible.

1637. The Bible. Known as the Royal or AUTHORIZED VERSION appointed to be read in Churches. Printed by Thomas Buck and Roger Daniel, printers to the University of Cambridge. Quarto ($8\frac{1}{8}$ - $6\frac{1}{4}$ inches). 1637.

The Bible has been divided into three volumes and interleaved with old paper.

[38 B 11-13.]

 The dedication is to the High and Mighty Prince James.

1640. The Bible. The Royal or AUTHORIZED VERSION. Printed at London by R. Barker and the assignes of John Bill. Folio ($17\frac{5}{8}$ -11 inches). 1640.

[Case B.]

 This is Bishop COMPTON'S copy, which was originally bound in silver and placed upon the altar on all the great festivals. When the cathedral was robbed in December, 1810, the massive covers were carried off by the thieves.

The volume in its original condition is thus described in Malcolm's Londinium Redivivum, III., 144: 'A Bible, with a silver gilt cover, representing a temple, with Moses and Aaron in the intervals between the columns, and Jacob's dream on one side, with the inscription, Verbum Domini manet in æternum. On the other leaf, the prophet fed by a raven, and Habent Moysen et Prophetas : audiant illos.'

- 1659-60. The Bible. The Royal or AUTHORIZED VERSION. Printed at Cambridge by John Field. Folio (17 - $11\frac{1}{4}$ inches). 1659-1660.

[38 B 9.]

 A very fine and perfect copy. The first title bears the 1660 imprint, but the title of the New Testament and the colophon have 1659.

The volume is bound in morocco, and on either side bears the following inscription:

'Donvm Mariæ HORNE vid : Relict : Roberti.

Horne civis et bibliopolæ Lond :

dicatum Altari Ecclesiæ Cathedralis.

Divi Pauli Lond : Anno Salutis.

Christianæ MDCCIII.

1819. The Holy Bible. Two volumes, folio. Oxford, Clarendon Press, 1819 ($18\frac{5}{8}$ - $11\frac{7}{8}$).

'This Bible was laid on the altar at the coronation of his Majesty King George IV. in Westminster Abbey, July 19, 1821, and became the property of James Webber, B.D., as Prebendary of Westminster.'

Presented to the Cathedral Church of Saint Paul, London, to be used for the daily service, by William Charles Fynes Webber, M.A., son of the above James Webber, minor canon and sacrist of S. Paul's. December 25, 1855.

The volumes were used in the Cathedral from Christmas, 1855, to Christmas, 1871, when the new Lectionary was introduced, and were then placed by Mr. Webber in the library. They were originally bound in blue velvet, now in morocco.

ENGLISH VERSIONS.

- [1525?] New Testament. TYNDALE'S. [Probably printed at Worms by Peter Schoeffer.] 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{8}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches). [1525.]
Imperfect, wanting seventy-one leaves: title, A1-A4, B1, B8, C1, C8, D8, E1, E8, F1, F7, F8, P5, BB1, BB2, BB7, blank leaf BB8, Hh1-Hh8, Pp1, Pp2, Pp3, and all after Pp6 (40 leaves). (These missing leaves have been supplied in facsimile from the Bristol copy by Mr. Francis Fry, and have been bound together in a separate volume.)
[38 C 1.]
* * This is a copy of the first complete English edition of the New Testament, and constitutes the 'gem,' or, using the words of Ames, 'the phoenix of the library;' only one other copy is known to have survived the flames—that in the Baptist College, Bristol, which is almost perfect, wanting only the title-page.
When this copy was first discovered by Dr. Cotton in 1821 it was in half-binding, lettered on the back 'Lant's Testament,' an entirely misleading title.
Dr. Cotton, in describing the volume, says: 'Its former owner, as if afraid of a second Bishop Tonstall, has contrived most ingeniously to disguise and disfigure it by intermixing the leaves of the Gospels and Epistles with each other in the strangest manner. Surely it well deserves to be carefully taken to pieces and examined . . . ' This ill-advised suggestion has unfortunately been adopted; the sheets have been arranged in proper sequence and the volume rebound, thus destroying what in all probability was a contemporary binding, and, what is even more to be deplored, the striking evidence that the copy originally afforded of the methods adopted to disguise and disfigure the interdicted volumes in order to avoid detection in those early days of the Reformation, when the reading and possession of any part of the Bible in the vernacular tongue were strictly prohibited, and the search for copies vigorously carried out with a view to their destruction.

Although the Testament bears no date, and we have no evidence that it was dated, certain events in the life of the translator, which have been brought to light during the present century, justify us in fixing the date of its production as 'late in the year 1525.'

That the volume was issued without any mention of the translator's name is evident from Tyndale's own words (in 1528) in his preface to the 'Wicked Mammon': 'The cause why I set my name before this little treatise, and have not rather done it in the New Testament, is . . . ' giving us undoubted proof of the purity of Tyndale's motives in undertaking this work, which was not intended to secure the fame of the translator. Tyndale had not laboured for money or applause, but with his characteristic unselfishness and noble disregard for fame was content that he himself should be forgotten if only the Word of God might be permitted to go abroad in the English tongue.

This translation has been referred to, and not inappropriately, as the 'grand foundation-stone of England's greatness.'

1525. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Being a verbatim reprint of the first translation of the Testament published in [1525] by that eminent Scholar and Martyr, Wm. Tyndale. With a memoir of his life and writings by George OFFOR. London: Sam. Bagster. 1836. 8vo. (8 $\frac{3}{8}$ -6 $\frac{3}{8}$ inches). [38 C 29.]

* * The cuts and initial letters in this reprint are emblazoned in the same manner as the Bristol copy, and in the exact colours of it; a title-page has likewise been improvised from the various cuts ornamentally arranged.

The text is unsatisfactory from a bibliographical point of view.

1525. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Facsimile texts. The first printed English New Testament. Translated by William Tyndale. Supposed to have been printed at Cologne in the year 1525. Photo-lithographed from the unique fragment now in the Grenville collection, British Museum. Edited by Edward Arber. Quarto (8 $\frac{3}{8}$ -6 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches). London. 1871. [38 C 37.]

* * This fragment is highly interesting as being one of the first sheets of the English New Testament thrown off by the press. Tyndale arrived at Cologne early in the year 1525, and at once commenced his labours by printing his New Testament. But little progress had been made when the work was interdicted, and Tyndale was compelled to fly to Worms for safety, taking with him as many of the printed sheets as he could secure. There is no evidence, however, that this edition was ever completed. Before the close of the year, the great object of his life had been accomplished, in the putting forth of the complete New Testament, a copy of which has been described in the preceding note.

1534. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. 'The Newe Testament, dyligently corrected and compared with the Greke by Wyllyam Tindale: and fynesshed in the yere of oure Lorde God A.M.D. & xxxiiii, in the moneth of November.' Printed at Antwerp by Marten Emperowr. 8vo. ($5\frac{5}{8}-3\frac{1}{2}$ inches).

Imperfect, wanting the last two leaves (Ee7 and Ee8).

[38 C 2.]

* * This is Tyndale's own second edition.

1536. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Name of place and printer unknown [but probably printed at London by Thomas Berthelet]. Folio ($10\frac{1}{2}-6\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1536.

Imperfect, wanting eight leaves: A1 to A4, Aa4, and the three last leaves RR1-RR3.

[38 C 21.]

1536. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Known as the Blank Stone Edition. Name of place and printer unknown [but probably printed at Antwerp by William Vostermann or Symon Cowke]. Quarto ($7\frac{3}{8}-5\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1536.

Imperfect, wanting title, Wm. T. to the Christian Reader (three leaves), r8, G1-G6, G8, H2, and all after I8. Seven of the missing leaves have been supplied by Mr. George Offor in facsimile, and are inserted—G1-G4, G6, G8 and H2.

[38 C 22.]

* * This edition derives its name, 'The Blank Stone Edition,' from the fact that in the cut which precedes his Epistles the stone is blank upon which the Apostle Paul is resting his foot; in other copies it has a mole or the engraver's initials in the blank space.

Appended to this volume at the commencement is: The Book of Common Prayer, wanting the title and some preliminary leaves [probably printed by Barker about 1613]. This is followed by the Psalter after the Great Bible, printed by Robt. Barker, 1613. After the Revelation, 'Here folowe the Epistles taken out of the Old Testament, which are red in the Church after the use of Salysburye upon certayne dayes of the year'; and at the end of the volume, following the New Testament, is the Psalter collected into English meetre by Sternhold, Whittingham, and Hopkins, etc. London, for the Company of Stationers. 1614.

1536. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Name of place and printer unknown. 8vo. ($5\frac{3}{8}$ - $3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). [1536.]

Very imperfect, wanting all before D6 (S. Matt. xx.), t8, v4-v8, x2-x7, y1, y2, y5, y7, y8, and all after aa8. [38 C 24.]

1536. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Name of place and printer unknown. 8vo. (5 - $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1536.

Very imperfect and mutilated, wanting title and any preliminary leaves before *ii, N1-N8, Q5, T1-T8, 26-28, b8, h2-h8, l6, l7, t8, x5, z1. [38 C 23.]

* * This edition is not identical with the preceding. In certain points it agrees with the Spencer copy, and in other points it agrees with the Bristol copy; it is quite possible that it is a made-up copy.

1536. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Name of place and printer unknown. A fragment of thirteen leaves, comprising *ii. to *viii. (W. T. to the Reader, An Exhortation by Erasmus Roterodamus, and the second title), A1, A2 to A5, B3 and B4. 8vo. ($5\frac{3}{8}$ - $3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). [1536.]

[38 C 8.]
* * This fragment is bound up at the commencement of the 1539 Testament, printed by M. Crom, and is a portion of the same edition as the Spencer copy, described by Mr. Francis Fry as No. 10.

1538. The New Testament. COVERDALE'S Version, with Tyndale's prologues. Printed at Antwerp by Matthew Crom. 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{8}$ - $3\frac{3}{4}$ inches). 1538.

Imperfect, wanting: title and seven following preliminary leaves, A1-Aiii, A7, A8, I1, I2, I7, I8, K1, and K8. [38 C 3.]

* * This edition is illustrated with some 200 woodcuts, besides ornamental initials and tailpieces.

1538. The New Testament. English and Latin. The English of Myles COVERDALE, with the Latin Vulgate. Printed at Paris by Fraunces Regnault for Richard Grafton and Edward Whitchurch, cytezens of London, in Novembre, 1538. 8vo. ($6\frac{3}{8}$ - $4\frac{3}{8}$ inches). [38 C 4.]

1538. The New Testament. English and Latin. The English of TYNDALE, with the Latin of ERASMUS. Printed at London by Robert Redman. Quarto ($8\frac{5}{8}$ - $6\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1538.

Imperfect, wanting six leaves: the four preliminary leaves comprising title, almanack and kalendar, A1, and the last leaf. [38 C 5.]

* * A facsimile title by Mr. Geo. Offor has been inserted, which is a facsimile of the second title, varying considerably from the first.

1538. The New Testament. English and Latin. The English of COVERDALE with the Latin Vulgate [revised] by Johan HOLLYBUSHE. Printed at London by James Nicholson. Quarto ($7\frac{1}{4}$ - $5\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1538.

Imperfect, wanting fourteen leaves: the six preliminary leaves, comprising title and prolegomena, JJ3-JJ6, Vvi, 2, 7, and 8.

[38 C 6.]

* * This is usually described as the second edition of the New Testament in Latin and English, after the Vulgate by Myles Coverdale, printed by Nicholson. Nothing is known of Hollybushe, whose name appears on the title-page, and it is now generally supposed to be a pseudonym adopted by Nicholson in consequence of the complaints of Coverdale against the inaccuracies in the former edition printed by him.

1539. The New Testament. COVERDALE'S. Printed at Antwerp by Matthew Crom. 8vo. (6 - $3\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1539.

Imperfect, wanting title and all before B2, B3, VI-V8, XI-X3, X8, s1 and 2, and all after s4.

[38 C 8.]

* * The illustrations in this copy are the same as those of the 1538 edition, but the type is larger.

Appended to this copy is a fragment (thirteen leaves) of the 1536 Testament of Tyndale, which will be found described under that year.

1539. The New Testament. COVERDALE'S. Another copy of the preceding. 8vo. (6 - $3\frac{3}{8}$ inches).

Very imperfect, having only 270 leaves, and wanting all before sig. C and many other leaves.

[38 C 7.]

1539. The New Testament. TAVERNER'S. A Revision of Matthew's version by Rycharde Taverner. Printed at London by Thomas Petyt for Thomas Berthelet. Quarto ($7\frac{1}{8}$ - $5\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1539.

[38 C 9.]

* * An exceedingly fine copy in perfect state, which is probably unique.

1549. The New Testament. English and Latin. The English of TYNDALE with the Latin of ERASMUS. Printed at London by Wylliam Powell. Quarto ($8\frac{3}{4}$ - $6\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1549.

Imperfect, wanting only the title.

Appended to this volume and preceding the Testament is The Book of Common Prayer. London, Barker and Bill. Quarto (much cut down). 1639. And following the Testament is The Whole Book of Psalmes, by Sternhold, Hopkins, and others (with music). London, for the Company of Stationers. Quarto.

1639.

[38 C 10.]

1550. The New Testament. English and Latin. The English of TYNDALE with the Latin of ERASMUS. Printed at London by Thomas Gaultier, pro I. C. 8vo. ($7\frac{1}{8}$ - $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1550.

Imperfect, wanting eleven leaves: title, folios 1 and 6 of the unsigned preliminary leaves, ✠ 3 and 4, A8, Hh6-Hh8, Ii1, Ii2. (The title and A8 have been supplied in facsimile)

[38 C 11.]

* * It has not yet been ascertained to whom the initials I. C. refer; Lewis suggested John Cawood, others have suggested Sir John Cheke, but upon insufficient authority. Sir John Cheke did about this time translate a portion of the New Testament, but it is evident upon comparison that his translation does not agree with the present.

1550. The New Testament. CRANMER'S. Printed by Jhon Oswen of Worcester. 8vo. ($7\frac{1}{8}$ - $5\frac{1}{8}$ inches). [1550.]

A fragment of eight leaves, commencing on Ss1 ('The notes and expositions of the darke places,' etc.), and ending on Ss8 with the colophon making one complete sheet.

[38 C 34.]

* * This seems to be quite a distinct edition from that described by Lea Wilson.

1551. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Printed at London by John Daye. Quarto ($10\frac{1}{2}$ -7 inches). 1551.

[38 C 12.]

* * Although this volume is lettered New Testament, and has the appearance of being a distinct edition, it is in reality the New Testament portion of Daye's Bible of 1551, which is determined from the colophon, ending 'The Ende of the Old and Newe Testament.'

1552. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S version revised by Jugge. Printed at London by Rychard Jugge. Quarto ($7\frac{3}{8}$ - $5\frac{6}{8}$ inches). 1552.

Very imperfect, wanting title, and all before Cii, as well as the last leaf with colophon.

[38 C 13.]

* * Although the title and colophon is wanting, we find at the end of 'The Actes of the Apostles' Jugge's large device, with the words 'Imprinted at London by Rychard Jugge,' etc.

Appended to this volume and preceding the Testament is The Psalter or Psalms of David . . . after the translation of the Great Bible. 4to. Printed by Wm. Seres, London [? 1583]; following the Testament is The Whole Boke of Psalmes, by Sternhold, Whittingham, Hopkins, and others. 4to. Printed by John Daye, London, 1580.

Imperfect, wanting all after page 322.

1552. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S. Another copy of the preceding, measuring $8\frac{1}{8}$ - $5\frac{6}{8}$ inches.

Imperfect, wanting eight leaves: title and first four leaves of calendar, A1, P5, Q8. A facsimile title in pen and ink has been supplied. Sig. P5 has been made up by a leaf from the 1553 edition.

[38 C 14.]

Appended to this volume, following the Testament, is 'The Whole Booke of Psalmes,' by Sternhold, Hopkins, and others. 4to. Printed by John Daye, London, 1582.

Imperfect, wanting all after H6.

- 1552? The New Testament. TYNDALE'S version revised by Jugge. Printed at London by Rychard Jugge. 8vo. ($4\frac{5}{16}-3$ inches). Without date [probably 1552].

Imperfect, wanting title and first portion of the Epistle to Edward VI., by R. Jugge, making evidently two leaves. As the preliminary leaves are unsigned, and no perfect copy is known, it is impossible to say with any degree of certainty what is missing.

[38 C 25.]

- 1566? The New Testament. TYNDALE'S version revised by Jugge. Printed at London by Rychard Jugge. Quarto ($8\frac{1}{4}-6$ inches) [1566?].

Imperfect, wanting title and last leaf with colophon. A facsimile title has been supplied by Mr. Geo. Offor.

[38 C 15.]

Appended to this volume is The Psalter [Cranmer's]. Printed by Edw. Whytchurche, London. 4to. [probably 1550].

Imperfect, wanting title and all before A2, also A8, D1, D8.

1566. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S version revised by Jugge. Another copy of the preceding, measuring only $7\frac{1}{2}-5\frac{3}{8}$ inches.

Very imperfect and much mutilated.

[38 C 16.]

In this volume, preceding the Testament is 'A Psalter,' printed in a bold black-letter type, probably by Jugge, in the same type as the 1568 Bishops' Bible.

Imperfect, wanting title, colophon, etc.

And following the Testament is The Psalter, preceded by Veni Creator, etc., in metre, with musical notation, and the Song of the Three Children.

Very imperfect, wanting title, colophon, etc.

- 1575? The New Testament. GENEVAN. 8vo. ($5\frac{11}{16}-3\frac{1}{4}$ inches). Probably printed abroad in the year 1575.

Imperfect, wanting only the title.

[38 C 28.]

* * In this volume at the commencement are eight leaves of the 'Forme of Prayers according to the use of the English Church in Geneva,' bearing the imprint of Johne Ros for Henrie Charteris, 1575.

1582. The New Testament. RHEMISH VERSION. Printed at Rhemes by John Fogny. Quarto ($8\frac{7}{8}$ - $6\frac{1}{4}$ inches). 1582.

[38 C 17.]

* * This is a translation from the Vulgate by Dr. William Allyn, being the New Testament translated 'in the English Colledge of Rhemes,' as the prefatory matter indicates. The Douay Old Testament portion was not published till 1609-1610.

This copy, with the exception of a small portion of the title, which is missing, is perfect and in excellent condition.

1583. The New Testament. TOMSON'S Revision. Translated from the Greek into Latin by Beza, and Englished by Laurence Tomson. Printed at London by Christopher Barker. 8vo. ($4\frac{7}{8}$ - $2\frac{7}{8}$ inches). 1583.

Imperfect, wanting title and all after Oo7. The title has been supplied in facsimile.

[38 C 18.]

* * This copy is bound up with the third part of the Genevan Bible printed by Barker in 1583, which will be found described under Bibles.

1596. The New Testament. TOMSON'S Revision. Printed at London by the Deputies of Christopher Barker. Quarto ($8\frac{1}{8}$ - $6\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1596.

[38 C 19.]

1605. The New Testament. TYNDALE'S, as printed by R. Jugge. Printed at London by the assignes of Robert Barker. 8vo. ($5\frac{5}{8}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1605.

Imperfect, wanting only one leaf (N2).

[38 C 20.]

Appended to this volume is 'The Whole Booke of Psalmes,' collected by Sternhold, Hopkins, and others. Printed for the Company of Stationers. Quarto. 1605.

- 1608? The New Testament. TOMSON'S Revision. Printed at London by R. Barker. 8vo. ($5\frac{3}{8}$ - $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches). [1608?]

Imperfect, wanting title and all before C1; other leaves are slightly defective.

[38 C 26.]

Appended to this volume is 'The Psalms,' by Sternhold, Hopkins, and others. Printed for the Company of Stationers, 1608.

Imperfect, wanting about nineteen leaves at end.

- 1616? The New Testament. TOMSON'S Revision. Having the Junius version of the Apocalypse. [Probably printed at London by R. Barker.] 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{8}$ -4 inches). [1616?]

Imperfect, wanting title, and all before the twenty-first chapter of S. Matthew (C6).

[38 C 27.]

* * The text of this copy is made complete by the insertion of a sheet of a much later edition.

*PARTS OF THE BIBLE,*EARLY PRINTED CONCORDANCES AND OTHER RARE THEOLOGICAL TREATISES.

1500. Fisher (John), D.D., Bishop of Rochester. 'This treatise, concernynge the fruytfull saynges of Davyd the Kynge and prophete in the seven penytenyall psalmes. Devyded in seven sermons, was made and compyled by the ryght reverente fader in God, Johan Fysshier, docteur of dyvynyte and bysshop of Rochester . . .' Printed at London by Wynkyn de Worde. 8vo. ($7\frac{9}{16}-5\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1508.
[38 E 20.]

 A very fine and perfect copy.

- 1530?. Tyndale (William). 'An Exposition upon the v., vi., vii. chapters of Mathew. Compyled by Wyllyam Tindale. Newly set forth and corrected according to his first copye.' Without place, name of printer, or date [but probably printed abroad about the year 1530]. 8vo. ($5\frac{3}{16}-3\frac{1}{8}$ inches).
[38 E 13.]

 This copy is in black letter, whilst the copy described by Cotton and Lea Wilson is in roman type.

- 1530-1534. The Pentateuch. Translated by William TYNDALE. The Books of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, and Deuteronomy are in roman type; the Book of Numbers in gothic. Without place or name of printer [but probably printed by Hans Luft, of Marlborowe]. 8vo. ($6-3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1530-1534.
[38 E 1.]

 A very fine and perfect copy, having the marginal notes intact, which in most copies are cut away, as directed by the Act of Parliament of 1542. Of the Book of Genesis two editions are known, the first edition, in gothic type, was issued in 1530, and the second edition, in roman, was issued in 1534; the copy contained in this volume is of the second edition. Of the other books no second edition is known to have been printed, and we may reasonably assume that this copy of the Pentateuch, with the exception of the Book of Genesis, is of the first edition, printed in 1530. This little volume ranks second only to Tyndale's Testament in point of interest, and is no less important as a monument of the English language.

1535. The Concordance of the new testament, most necessary to be had in y^e handes of all soche as in the cōmunycacion of any place contayned in y^e new Testament. [By Thomas GYBSON.] Printed at London by Thomas Gybson. 8vo. ($5\frac{1}{8}-3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1535.
[38 E 31.]

 This is a copy of the first printed concordance of the English New Testament, and is based upon Tyndale's Version. Bale ascribes it to Coverdale, Barham to Tyndale; we find, however, in the Epistle to the Reader, written by Gybson, an intimation of his being the collector or compiler. There is no difficulty in accepting this theory, for he had the reputation of being not only a printer, but a scholar.

1536. Bible Histories. Printed at Antwerp by Symon Cowke. 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{16}-3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1536.

Imperfect, wanting about thirty leaves, including title; (the colophon is intact).

[38 E 15.]

* * This volume is exceedingly rare. The colophon is surmounted by a woodcut representing S. Paul, identical in every way with that contained in the 1536 New Testament, known as the 'Engraver's Mark Edition.'

1537. The bokes of Salomō, namely: Proverbia, Ecclesiastes. Sapientia, and Ecclesiasticus, of Jesus, the sonne of Sirac, Printed in Southwark by James Nicholson. 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{16}-3\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1537.

[38 E 7.]

* * A very fine and perfect copy. On folio 204 commences the 'Story of Bell,' which is the fourteenth chapter of Daniel, after the Latin, occupying six pages.

1538. [Ridley (Lancelot)]. Exposition of the Epistle of St. Jude. Printed at London by John Gowghe. 8vo. ($5\frac{1}{2}-3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1538.

[38 E 2.]

* * This is bound up with Tyndale's Exposition of the Epistles of St. John.

1538. Hierome, of Ferrarye. 'An Expositiō upon the Li. Psalme. Made by Hierom. of Ferrarye. Printed in Parys [without name of printer]. 8vo. ($6\frac{1}{4}-4\frac{1}{4}$ inches). 1538.

Imperfect, wanting only title, which has been supplied in facsimile.

[38 E 21.]

* * The text is in Latin and English.

1538. [Sarcerius] Erasmus. 'Cōmon places of Scripture ordrely and after a compendious forme of teachyng set forth with no little labour, to the great profyte and helpe of all suche students in Gods worde as have not had longe exercyse in the same, by the ryght excellent clerke, Erasmus [Sarcerius]. Translated into Englysh by Rychard Taverner.' Printed at London by Johan Byddell. 8vo. ($5\frac{3}{8}-3\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1538.

[38 E 19.]

1539. [Tyndale (William)]. Exposition of the three Epistles of St. John. [Printed at Southwark by James Nicholson.] 8vo. ($5\frac{1}{4}-3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1539.

Imperfect, wanting only title, otherwise perfect and in excellent state.

[38 E 2.]

1539. La Vie de nostre Seigneur Jesu Christ, par figures

selon le texte des quatre Evangelistes avec toutes les Evangiles, Epistres et Propheties de toute l'année chantée en l'office de la Messe avec aucunes Oraisons. [Par F. Guillaume de Branteghem de Alost.] Printed at Antwerp by Adrien Kempe and Matthieu Crome. 8vo. (6-3 $\frac{7}{8}$ inches). 1539.
[38 E 18.]

1540. Ridley (Lancelot). A Commentary in Englyshe upon Sayncte Paules Epystle to the Ephesyans. Per Lancelotum Ridleum, Cantabrigensem. Printed at London by Robert Redman. 8vo. (5 $\frac{5}{8}$ -3 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1540.
[38 E 5.]

1540. [Luther (Martin)]. Exposition sur les deux Epîtres de Saint Pierre et sur celle de Saint Jude: en laquelle tout ce qui touche la doctrine Chrestienne est parfaitement compris. . . . Le tout traduit de Latin en Francoys et nouvellement imprimé. Without place or name of printer. 8vo. (5-3 inches). 1540.
[38 E 26.]

* * Bound up with two other treatises of Luther, which are described in their proper chronological order (1545 and 1561).

540. Here begynneth the Proverbs of Salomon. Whereunto is added dyvers other Bookes of the Byble. Very good and profytable for every Chrysten man for to knowe. Prynted at London by Robert Redman. 8vo. (5 $\frac{1}{2}$ -3 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1540.
Imperfect, wanting twenty-four leaves: title and all before B3, and all after T8.
[38 E 8.]

* * This volume contains the five books of Solomon.

1542. Summaire, c'est une briefve declaration d'aucuns lieux fort necessaires à chascun chrestien, pour mettre sa confiance en Dieu, et à ayder son proclain. G. Farel. No place. 1542.
(5-3 inches).
[38 E 26.]

1543. Melancthon (Philip). A newe work cōcerning both partes of the sacrament to be receyved of the lay peple as well under the kind off wine as under the kind off bread, with certen other articles cōcerning the masse and the auctorite off bysshops . . . made by Philip Melancthon and newly translated out off latyn. Without place or name of printer. 8vo. (5 $\frac{1}{2}$ -3 $\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1548.
[38 E 25a.]

1545. [Luther (Martin)]. Enseignement très utile tiré de la Sainte Ecriture, pour fortifier la personne à volentiers mourir, & ne craindre point la mort.' Without place or name of printer. 8vo. (5-3 inches). 1545.
[38 E 26.]

1546. Bale (John). The Actes of Englysh votaryes, comprehendinge their unchast practyces and examples by all ages, from the worldes begynnyng to the present yeare, collected out of their owne legendes and Chronycles. By Johan Bale. Printed at Wesel, without name of printer. 8vo. ($5\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). 1546. [38 E 25a.]

1548. Hooper (John). A Declaration of the ten holy comaundementes of allmygthye God. Wroten Exo. 20., Deu. 5. Collectyd out of the scripture Canonicall by Joanne Hopper. Without place or name of printer. 8vo. ($5\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{3}{4}$ inches). 1548. [38 E 24.]

1548. Hooper (John). Another copy of the preceding, measuring ($6\frac{1}{8}$ - $3\frac{1}{8}$ inches).

Imperfect, wanting only the title-page, which has been supplied in facsimile.

[38 E 23.]

- N.D. Hooper (John). Another copy of the preceding. 'Declaration of the Holie Commandements by John Houper.' Printed by Robert Waldegrave for Thomas Woodcocke. 8vo. ($5\frac{9}{16}$ - $3\frac{3}{8}$ inches). Without date.

[38 E 25.]

 This is a very much later edition than the two preceding copies.

1549. Ridley (Lancelot). 'Exposition upon the Epistle of Jude.' Printed at London by Wylliam Copland for Rychard Kele. 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{16}$ - $3\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1549.

[38 E 3.]

 This is not a mere reprint of the 1538 edition, from which textually it differs considerably.

1549. Frellon (Joan). Retratos otablas de las historias del Testamento Viejo, hechas y dibuxadas por un muy primo y sotil artifice. Printed at Lyons by Johannes Frellon. 8vo. ($7\frac{1}{8}$ -5 inches). 1549.

[38 E 16.]

 Each page is embellished with a spirited woodcut.

1550. The Boke of the Prophetes. (Esaye to Malachi.) This is undoubtedly the third part of TAVERNER'S Bible, published by J. Daye and W. Seres in five parts; the title-page bears the date 1530, which is evidently a misprint for 1550. 8vo. ($5\frac{1}{2}$ - $3\frac{5}{8}$ inches). [1550.]

Imperfect, wanting all after FF8 (second chapter of Malachi).

[38 E 9.]

 No perfect copy of this Bible is known.

1550. A briefe and compendiose table, in a maner of a concordance, openyng the way to the principall histories of the whole Bible . . . Gathered and set furth by Henry BULLYNGER, Leo JUDE, Conrade PELLICANE, and by the other Ministers of the Church of Tygurie, and now first printed in Englyshe. [To which is added] the third Boke of the Machabees, a booke of the Bible also printed unto this booke, which was never before translated or prynted in any Englyshe Bible. Printed at London for Gwalter Lynne. 8vo. (5 $\frac{3}{8}$ -3 $\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1550.

[38 E 30.]

* * This is not the first English edition of the Third Book of Machabees, as set forth in the title-page, for Taverner had already included it in his 1549 Bible, in 5 vols.

1550. Marbeck (John). A Concordance, that is to saie, a worke wherein, by the ordre of the letters of the A B C, ye maie redely finde any worde conteigned in the whole Bible, so often as it is there expressed or mencioned. By Jhon Marbek. Printed at London by Richard Grafton. Quarto (10 $\frac{3}{8}$ -7 inches). 1550.
[38 E 33.]

* * This is the first English concordance to the entire Bible. The author's account of the undertaking is worthy of notice. When he had reached the letter 'l,' his papers, including the MSS., were seized and confiscated, and in consequence he had to begin his concordance again. When completed, he showed it to a friend, who promised to assist him in getting it published by the king's authority. Before the work was finally published he found it necessary, by the advice of his publisher, to rewrite his manuscript, going over the same ground for the fourth time. The diligence and labours of such a man deserve to be recorded.

The work refers to the chapters only, and not to the verses.

1550. Joye (George). The Expositiō of Daniell the Prophete, gathered out of Philip Melancthon, Jhō Ecolampadius, Chonrade Pellicane, and oute of Jhon Draconite, etc. By George Joye. Printed at London by Jhon Daie and Wylliam Seres. 8vo. (5 $\frac{1}{2}$ -3 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1550.
[38 E 12.]

* * The title and a few other leaves are slightly wormed, otherwise the copy is perfect.

1550. Hooper (John). An oversight and deliberacion uppon the holy prophet Jonas: made, and uttered before the kinges maiesty and his most honourable councell, by Jhon Hoper in lent last past. Comprehended in seven Sermons. Printed at London by Jhon Tisdale. 8vo. (5-3 $\frac{1}{8}$ inches). 1550.
[38 E 11.]

1555. Fisher (John), D.D., Bishop of Rochester. This Treatyse, concernynge the fruytfull sayinges of Davyd the Kynge and Prophete in the seven penytencyall psalmes. Devided in vii. sermones, was made and compyled by the righte reverente father in God, Jhon fyssher. Printed at London by Thomas Marshe. 8vo. (5 $\frac{1}{8}$ -3 $\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1555.
[38 E 14.]

1560. Pilkington (James), Bishop of Durham. 'Aggeus the Prophete declared by a large commentary . . .' J. P. L. C.

Imperfect, wanting all before A7 (probably six leaves).
At the end of the volume are the two following appendices:
1° 'An Exposycyon after the maner of a contemplacyon upon the Psalme called "Miserere Mei Deus" which Hierom of Ferrarye made at the latter end of his dayes.' [Having a distinct colophon.]
2° Here beginneth the Epystles and Gospels of every Sonday, and holy day in the yeare. Printed by T. Petyt, uniform with the Primer, but without date. [1543.]
Imperfect, wanting all after G5 (three leaves).
[38 D 9.]
* * The appendices were printed separately, and were only occasionally annexed to the Primer.
1554. Portiforium seu Breviariū ad usum ecclesie Sarisburiensis, castigatum suppletū marginalibus quotationibus adornatum, ac nunc primum ad verissimum ordinalis exemplar in suum ordinem a peritissimis viris redactum. Parisiis: Per Magdalenam Bourssette viduā Francisci Regnault. 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{8}$ - $3\frac{7}{8}$ inches). 1554.
[38 D 5.]
1554. Manuale ad usum percelebris ecclesie Sarisburiensis. Londini noviter Impressum [probably by Richard Grafton]. Quarto (8 - $5\frac{7}{8}$ inches). 1554.

Imperfect, wanting all before a1, h5, and all after r1 (probably only one unnumbered leaf).

[38 D 11.]

* * Although this edition does not bear the printer's name, it has the compartment of Richard Grafton's device.

1554. Horæ [Beatæ Mariæ Virginis in usum Ecclesie Sarisburiensis]. [Probably printed at London by Thomas Petyt.] 8vo. ($6\frac{7}{8}-4\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1554.

Imperfect, wanting all before D5 (folio 29), and all after Y5 (folio 173, missigned 163 roman).

[38 D 10.]

1555. Missale ad usum Ecclesie Sarisburiensis. [Londoni per Joannem Kyngston et Henricum Sutton.] Quarto ($8\frac{5}{8}-6\frac{1}{4}$ inches). 1555.

Imperfect, wanting all before A1 except the last leaf but one (including title, calendar, and part of Benedictio), and the last leaf (r8), probably blank.

[38 D 3.]

- [1555.] The Primer in Latin and English (after the use of Sarum), with many godlye and deuoute prayers. Printed at London by John Wayland. Quarto ($7\frac{1}{4}-5\frac{1}{2}$ inches). [1555.]

Imperfect, wanting all before *1 ('A right Godly rule'),

¶ 4, O4. M3 and l1 are partly missing.

Appended to the Primer is :

'A Plaine and godly treatise concernyng the Masse and the blessed Sacraments of the aulter, for the instruccyon of the simple and unlearned people.' Beginning on R1.

Imperfect, wanting title (if any), z1, and all after z4 (probably only one leaf).

[38 D 8.]

* * * No mention is made in the table of contents of this 'Treatise on the Mass.'

1555. [Portiforium seu Breviariū ad usum ecclesie Sarisburiensis, castigatum suppletū marginalibus quotationibus adornatum, ac nunc primum ad verissimum ordinalis exemplar in suum ordinem a peritissimis viris redactum.] Parisiis: Per Magdalenam Boursette viduā Francisci Regnault. 8vo. ($5\frac{7}{8}-3\frac{5}{8}$ inches). 1555.

Imperfect, wanting only the title-page.

[38 D 6.]

* * This is a later impression of the 1554 edition, which has already been catalogued in its proper chronological order, and differs only in point of date. This copy bears the date of 1505 in the colophon, which upon close inspection will be found to have been tampered with; the central figure 5 has been carefully erased and replaced by a cipher, making 1505 in lieu of 1555.

1556. Portiforium seu Breviarium, ad insignis Sarisburiensis ecclesie usum: accuratissime castigatum, cum multis annotaciūculis ac litteris Alphabeticis, Evangeliorum, & Epistolarum capitulorum originem indicantibus, que nusquam hucusque addite. Londini: per Joannem Kyngston et Henricum Sutton. Quarto ($8\frac{7}{8}$ - $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches). 1556.

[38 E 44.]

* * The colophon gives 1536 as the date of the book, but the title-page bears the 1534 imprint. As this, however, forms part of the woodcut border surrounding the title, which border Berthelet had already used to embellish the titles of other works, it is quite probable that in utilising it for this work in the year 1536 the printer overlooked the existing date. The first edition of the work was printed by Pynson in 1493.

1537. Of the auctorite of the Word of God agaynst the Bishop of London, wherein are conteyned certen disputacyons had in the Parlement Howse between the Bishops about the things very necessary to be known ; made by Alexander Alane [Alesius or HALES] Scot and sent to the Duke of Saxon. [38 D 47.]
- * * * This Confession was written by Sir Henry Balnaves, a warm supporter of the Reformation in 1547, whilst an inmate of the prison in the city of Rouen. The manuscript was afterwards revised by Knox, at the time a prisoner in France, who divided it into chapters and added a summary. From that time it seems to have been lost sight of until shortly before its publication in 1584, when it was discovered at Ormiston, the seat of the lady to whom the volume is dedicated. The volume is exceedingly rare, only three or four copies being known.

1586. Foure Bookes of Husbandrie, collected by M. A FEW IMPORTANT MANUSCRIPTS.

Deed relating to the Obits and Services in Henry the Seventh's Chapel, Westminster Abbey.

A manuscript very sumptuously bound in velvet, lined with damask, with green silk tassels at the corners. On each side are five silver-gilt bosses; those at the four corners bear a portcullis, on a ground party per pale argent and vert: that in the centre bears the royal arms, with supporters, surmounted by a crown. Three clasps of enamelled silver, bearing Tudor roses, close the book. Pendant from it are four silver boxes (one box is imperfect) containing fragments of seals: the boxes are inscribed—whilst the fourth box bears on one side the arms, Gules, two keys in saltire or, impaling the arms of the Confessor. And on the other side, these two coats of arms impaling each other in chief; and below, Azure, on a chief indented or a pastoral staff paleways and a mitre gules, for Westminster Abbey. The velvet cover extends nearly a foot below the volume, and covers the seal-boxes. The initial letter represents King Henry VII. seated, giving this very volume to Abbot Islip, who kneels before him: behind the Abbot are four kneeling monks. The document commences:

SI . ARCHI . CANT.

S . CAPI . WINTON

SI . CAPITŌL . CANTO.

'This indenture Septipartite made betwene the moost xþen King Henry the vijth by the grace of God King of Englande and of fraunce and lord of Ireland the sixtene day of July the xix yere of his moost noble reigne of the oon partie, And the moost Reu'ende ffadre in God William Archebissshop of Caunterbury of the seconde partie, And the right Reu'ende fadre in God Richard Bisshop of Winchest'r of the thirde partie, and John Islipp Abbot of the Monast'ie of saint Petre of Westm̃ and the Priour and Convent of the same place of the fourth partie, And the Dean and Chanons of the Kinges free Chapell of our ladie and Saincte Stephen the furst martir wⁱⁿ the Kinges paloys of Westm̃ of the fith partie, And the Dean and Chapitre of the Cathedral Church of sainte Paule in the Citie of London of the sixte partie, And the Maire and Cōialtie of the citie of London of the seventh partie.'

The Deed itself is a Deed of Penalties. A similar Deed in the British Museum enumerates the

'Grete Penalties and Sommes of Money to be forfeited and paied as often as the said Abbot, Priour and Convent, or their successours shall make Default in observyng and perfourmyng of any of the Covenantes or Graunts conteigned and specified in the original Indenture conteynge the Fundacion of the holie and devout Wille of the said Kyng.'

Marginal references throughout the deed direct attention to the minute details comprised within its purview : such as, 'the daily Collects at high masse, the daily Collects at the Chapitre Masse, the heures of the saieng of the thre Chauntrie Masses, the knolling of the bell bifor the saienge of the thre Chauntrie Masses, the ringing of the bell to the Sermones, the distribucion of Almesse, the hundreth Tapers to stand continually about the herse and tombe and thretie of theym to brenne at the said obites, the twenty and foure Torches, the three monks scolars, the thretene poor men, the three poor women, the wodde and cole for the poor men, a monke for the ou'sight of the said poor men,' etc., etc. These details give a very complete view of the services in Henry the Seventh's Chapel.

The exact date of the Indenture is 1504. The Prelates named are William Warham, Archbishop of Canterbury, and Richard Fox, Bishop of Winchester.

[A volume corresponding with the above, but containing four indentures, is preserved in the British Museum. Harleian MS., No. 1498.]

Manuscript, in English, about the middle of the Fifteenth Century, on vellum, relating to the Monastery of Sion in Isleworth. The Rule of the House was that of S. Austin with the additions of S. Bridget. The volume contains :

1. The Additions to the Rule, in fifty-eight chapters.
2. A Ceremonial Calendar.
3. A Table of Signs to be used during the hours of silence by the Brethren.
4. The Reule of our Savyour.
5. The Reule of S. Austyne.

In the British Museum (Arundel MS., No. 146) is a similar but imperfect volume, containing the rules and constitutions for the Sisters of this Order. The Cathedral volume contains the Rules of the Brethren. The British Museum MS., including the very curious Table of Signs, has been printed by Aungier in his History and Antiquities of Syon Monastery, the Parish of Isleworth, etc. (8vo., London, 1840), pp. 405-409. The deficiencies of the original have been supplied from the Cathedral MS.

NOTE.

The works enumerated on pages 231 to 239 are not at present in the Library. But it has been thought desirable to include them as Desiderata in this catalogue, partly with a view to render this attempt at a bibliography of S. Paul's Cathedral somewhat more complete, and partly with the hope that possessors of rare books included in these lists may be induced to enrich the already valuable collection by supplying its deficiencies.

It will be observed that in some cases the books still needed are earlier or later editions of works already acquired.

LIST OF THE PREACHERS

AT THE

Anniversary Festival of the Sons of the Clergy.

The following list, to the year 1731, is taken chiefly from a work entitled A Complete List of the Stewards, Presidents, etc., belonging to the Royal Corporation for the Relief of the Poor Widows and Children of Clergymen, from the Grant of the Charter by King Charles II., July 1, 1678 (8vo., London, 1733). In this work (compiled by William Freeman, A.B., Lecturer of S. Botolph's, Aldersgate) it is stated that the first sermon was preached in 1655, at S. Paul's, by the Rev. George Hall, M.A., Minister of S. Botolph's, Aldersgate, and afterwards Bishop of Chester. No subsequent meeting is mentioned until the year 1674, with which the following list commences. We are told elsewhere that 'the custom of preaching to the Sons of the Clergy began in Dr. Manton's time: Dr. Hall preached the first Sermon to them, as Dr. Manton did the second. See Works, vol. iii.—Gentleman's Magazine, lv., 164. It is probable that a meeting for this charitable purpose may have been held from the year 1655, though with occasional interruptions. The festival clearly originated prior to the charter being granted to the Corporation of the Sons of the Clergy in 1678, as from 1674 there appear to have been stewards and a treasurer annually appointed; and Bishop Spratt, in his sermon preached in 1678, speaks of 'these friendly and charitable meetings' as having been 'for several years renewed, with no just offence to any, though with the grief and envy perhaps of some, who are not of our household of faith, but to the comfort of all that are; for the present benefit and relief of many, and with well-grounded hopes and presages of much greater things for the future.' In 1702, Dr. White Kennett recommended that 'an account should be drawn up of the first meeting of this Society, of the several benefactions to it, and of the manifold good services done by it.' It is to be regretted that this suggestion was not then attended to.
